IMASH 2017 Convention
Boise, Idaho • October 5-7, 2017
It is our great pleasure to invite you to the Inter Mountain Area Speech and Hearing (IMASH) Convention! We are very excited to host IMASH for the first time in Idaho. The IMASH planning committee from our partner states, Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, is working hard to continue the tradition of offering education and collaboration opportunities in audiology and speech-language pathology. We invite you, and our hope is that over the three days, you collaborate, share and build professional opportunities during the 2017 IMASH Convention.

We have organized the seminar tracks with school-based, medical, multi-interest, rehab audiology and diagnostic audiology. We would like to thank all of the professionals and students that have submitted their work over the last year and appreciate the time and expertise that will be presented at this Convention. Our highlighted speakers, Douglas Beck, AuD; Erin Bush, PhD, CCC-SLP; Eileen Crowe, ASHA regional representative; Joseph Dansie, AuD, CCC-A, FAAA; D. Spencer Darley, MD; Ryan McCreery, PhD; Celeste Roseberry-McKibbin, PhD, CCC-SLP; and Gail Richard, PhD, CCC-SLP, reflect the variety of session track offerings. We will have poster sessions on Friday from 2:30 pm-4:30 pm, and Saturday from 8:30 am-10:30 am.

Plan to come out and support students and colleagues at the Inter Mountain University Jeopardy With a Twist Challenge. Amy Hardy (ID) is planning this competition to be fun, competitive and a little noisy. Be sure to wear you school colors and cheer on your local university team! There will be plenty of fun to keep both spectators and competitors engaged right down to Double Jeopardy rounds!

Idaho and Wyoming will be hosting state luncheons on Friday, October 6. If you plan to attend, please be sure to sign up when registering for the Convention.

Thank you to the IMASH Planning Committee and Craven Management Associates who are continuously working hard to ensure an excellent 2017 IMASH Convention experience.
